The background of the page features a light gray color with several horizontal strands of barbed wire. The wires are slightly out of focus and run across the entire width of the page, creating a somber and historical atmosphere.

Introduction to Columbia Holocaust Education Commission

The Columbia Holocaust Education Commission is a committee under the umbrella of the Columbia Jewish Community Center. It is devoted to providing resources to the entire Columbia community including the Holocaust Memorial in downtown Columbia and Holocaust Remembered 24 panel exhibit, to name a few.

“To review these events is very painful...I bear it willingly only if you take it into your heart that somehow you and I will contribute together to diminish the possibility that this could ever happen again.”

*Bluma Goldberg, Survivor of Bergen Belsen
Came to Columbia in 1950*

Holocaust Remembered

The Columbia Holocaust Education Commission presents the exhibit “Holocaust Remembered”. This exhibit was created in collaboration with the South Carolina State Museum and the Columbia Jewish Federation.

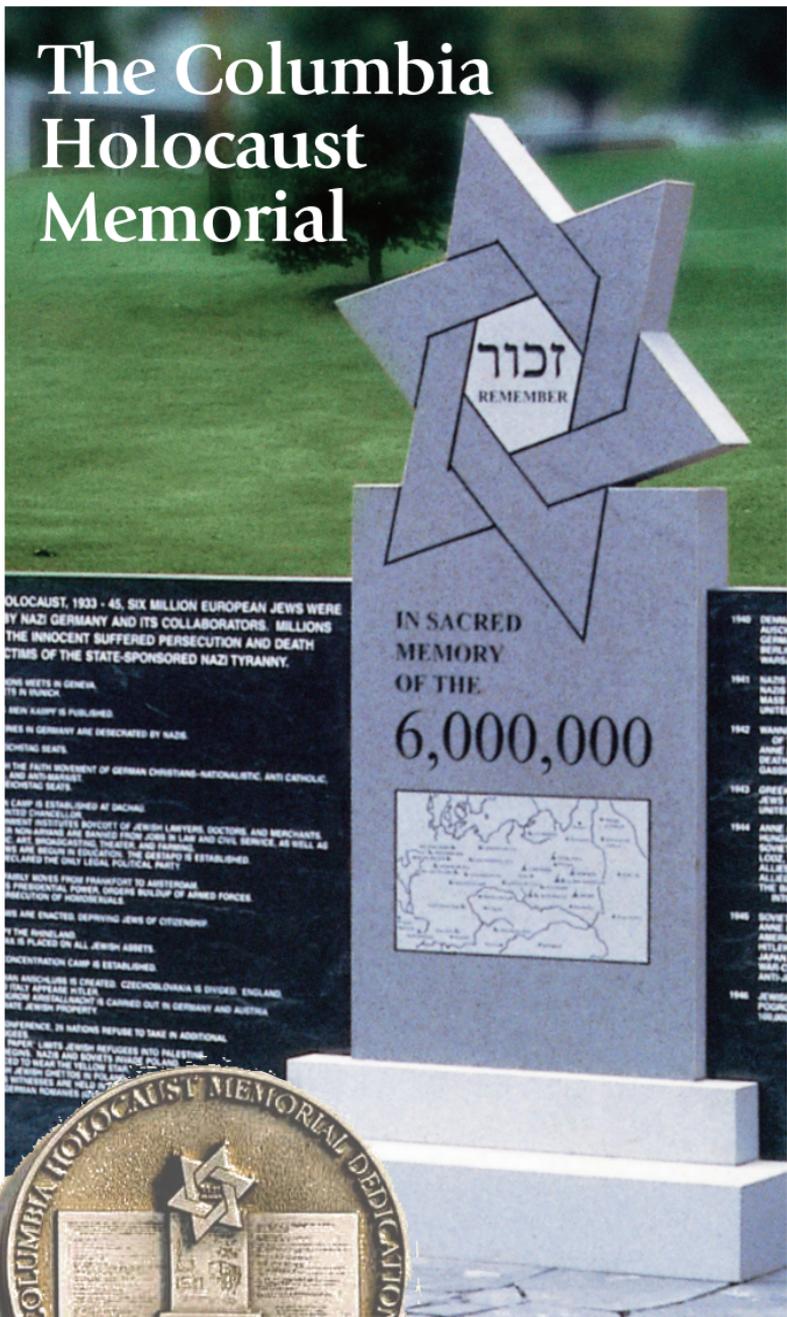

“Holocaust Remembered” tells the history of the Holocaust during WWII and personal stories by many of Columbia survivors and liberators.

This exhibit is shown Fall and Spring each year at the Katie and Irwin Kahn Jewish Community Center located at 306 Flora Drive in Columbia, SC.

For more information about the Holocaust Remembered Exhibit and grants for Holocaust Education visit www.columbiaholocausteducation.org.

Columbia Jewish Federation
PO Box 23257
Columbia, SC 29224
803.787.2023
www.jewishcolumbia.org

The Columbia Holocaust Memorial

The Columbia Holocaust Memorial is dedicated to the Midlands' survivors and liberators of the Holocaust during WWII.

The memorial is located at Columbia Memorial Park located at Gadsden and Hampton streets in downtown Columbia, SC.

For more information about the Columbia Holocaust Education Commission visit www.columbiaholocausteducation.com.